

TOP 10

Arizona Hikes

1 CAMELBACK MOUNTAIN

The hike starts from Echo Canyon Trailhead and doesn't kid around before it starts climbing. The climb to the top gains 1,264 ft in 1.2 miles and a lot of that is going from one large boulder to the next. This hike is not for beginner hikers. Leave yourself about 2 hours for a roundtrip hike.

About an hour east of Phoenix, you'll find the Superstition Mountains and the Lost Dutchman State Park. From the Siphon Draw Trailhead the hike begins a gradual climb up a wash. Once you reach the base of the mountain you will follow a well used path, but it can still be hard to follow. The climb can be steep with loose rocks, so be careful. After 2.5 miles and 2,400 ft elevation gain you'll find yourself near the top. There is a large outcropping called the Flat Iron that is nearly the size of a football field. Head to the tip of it for some great views.

2 FLAT IRON

3 BROWN'S PEAK

4 BRIGHT ANGEL TRAIL

5 HAVASU FALLS

6 MOUNT WRIGHTSON

7 MOUNT KIMBALL

8 MOUNT HUMPHREY'S

9 KENDRICK PEAK

10 WEST FORK OF OAK CREEK CANYON

STACY MILLER REALTOR®

📞 214.597.8881

✉️ stacymilleraz@yahoo.com

RE/MAX
Fine Properties